In my previous role as a cook at General Cuisine, Inc. I focused on egg-based dishes. The word "at" leaps to mind but I would not blink if someone used "in." The crux of the matter is that ...

Be wary of the fact that Wiktionary gives "roled" word status. It's missing from other online dictionaries, such as Merriam-Webster. At best, I'd say it was an extrapolated word, which is ...

What is the difference between job title and job role? For example, from the Google documentation on rich snippets: title -- The person's title (for example, Financial Manager) role -- The perso...

The role of the two parties involved in a legal proceeding, peculiar to the adversarial system of trial, can help circumscribe whether or not a trial proceeds in a fair and unbiased fashion.

If something or someone plays a part or plays a role in a situation, they are involved in it and have an effect on it. They played a part in the life of their community.

vs X also plays a role of (job-function). My opinion is that "plays a role as" indicates a greater impact on the role and the company, whereas "plays a role of" is more "does the job". My old ...

The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language gives four definitions of role, the first of which is also relevant: A character or part played by a performer.

I think the reason English doesn't really have a consistent word for the syntactic role of a verb, as opposed to the part of speech, is because most sentences have one predicate, and those ...

0 role= a function or part performed especially in a particular operation or process We usually say-- play an important role, play a vital role, play a key role, play a prominent role, play a major role etc. role= ...

The role and function of microgrid

Did he "take the role" of his colleague or did he "take over the role" of his colleague? Also "take on the role" sounds like a viable option to me, because I'm trying more to convey the sense of him accepting ...
